

Green Home Caravan in Chester County

GREEN HOME AND VINEYARD TOUR

Please caravan with us in scenic Chester County to visit three exciting examples of green building in the Delaware Valley.

TOUR STOPS

- Our first home will be the residence of State Representative Chris Ross and Cecilia Ross, recently featured in Garden Design magazine for its sustainable approach to the garden as well as the home.
- The next home, currently under construction, will be a single family home nestled on a hilltop on 10 acres of undeveloped woodlands. A simple barn-like structure, 60 Bragg Hill, pays homage to rural Chester County while utilizing state of the art sustainable building practices and technologies: insulated concrete forms, structural insulated panels, photovoltaic system, geothermal heating, and recycled rain water.
- Rounding up our tour will be the sustainable Stargazers Vineyard and passive solar home built by Sunwood Builders whose design is based on the Cincinnati Ekosea home. The property features 54 solar panels providing about 10,000 kw per year to the home and vineyard as well as a rainwater cistern. Impressively this home has no heating, electric or water bills.
